

God's in Control

Her mind is tormented and riddled with fear
She's looks for the path but it's still so unclear
Can she move forward when she's held by her past?
There must be a way to break free at last

She lifted her head said I won't take this again
I'm changing location I'm moving to win
The devil no longer will have this stronghold
My God, My deliverer, He's now in control!

Bridge
No longer a stranger to heaven's reward
I'm claiming my victory no matter how hard
I'm running this race, reaching my goal
For my God my deliverer, He's now in control!

Chorus
I'll not look back or return to my past
I'm looking ahead, standing steadfast
I'm giving Him all the pain and the stress
My God's in control, my rock and fortress

Chorus
