Greco's New Single 'Right Kind of Woman'

The Catchy New Single Is Spellbinding

ATLANTA Georgia, Aug 20, 2019- Popular Atlanta-based modern throwback band, Greco describe their music as 'rock n roll that will make your skin tingle and your feet move!' While their sound is contemporary, you can definitely recognize the influences of the classic rock artists they love so much. Their newest single, 'Right Kind of Woman' is no exception. Available on Sept 12, 2019, it will surely make you want to dance, sing, and play along with your best air guitar.

The band is made up of Athens GA natives & brothers, Sebastian, Gabriel, and Zach Greco. They are well known throughout the Southeast for their particular wild shows and on-stage expressions! They push to connect with every fan on a personal level. "We write and sing about experiences we've all had, at one time or another. Our music is designed to make people remember life is great, and to forget their troubles, but we still want to relate on a deeper level." That's why their fans are proud to be part of their Greco Tribe (#GrecoTribe). We'd expect nothing less from a band whose slogan is 'Sing. Dance. Sweat. Sex!'

The band will be previewing the new single 'Right Kind of Woman' at their End of the Summer Dance Party at Vinyl CenterStage on August 24th, 2019. The party starts at 8:30pm. Tickets are available ONLINE NOW. 1374 W. Peachtree St. NW, Atlanta, GA 30309
