End User Licensor Agreement:

Single User, non attribution, royalty free license.

The End User License Agreement (EULA) is a legal agreement between the Licensee and Brian Birchall of Hidden Sound (the Licensor) for the digital media in the form of copyrighted sound recordings.

Subject to the terms and conditions of this public license, the Licensor hereby grants the Licensee a worldwide, royalty free, non sub-licensable, non-exclusive, non-assignable, non-transferable and non-attribution license to edit, synchronise and publicly and/or digitally perform the licensed material for the following:

Use and adaption within musical compositions, synchronising recordings in films, radio and television presentations and any other multimedia excluding marketing presentations and commercials unless specifically authorised in writing by the Licensor.

Transfer, copying, duplication (excluding personal back up) or redistribution of the works in whole or in part for any other purpose than those stated in the agreement is prohibited unless specifically authorised in writing by the Licensor.

The unauthorised addition of licensed material in sound libraries ie. sample instrument libraries, is forbidden unless authorised in writing by the Licensor.

Transfer of one or more sounds to any format allowing access by two or more end users requires a Multi-user License from the Licensor.

In the event of a breach of these terms, action may be taken against you by the Licensor and the Licensee's right to use any of the licensed material will terminate.
