 2018 8vo (4) + 28 pages, illustrated.
 Original textured A5 card wrappers. (Stock ref 7421)
Limited edition of 40 copies, signed and numbered by Martin Tebay.
 Richard Boys, was a renowned cricketer for Burnley Cricket Club during the latter part of the nineteenth century. Scottish by birth, his cricketing journey from the Lancashire mill town of Burnley to the hallowed turf of Lord's via Massachusetts, and his prominent status in the early years of the Lancashire Cricket League, is noteworthy and ultimately tragic.

158. Ralph Whitehead: Double Sensation in a Single Day. £7
 Lancashire CCC v Nottinghamshire CCC, Old Trafford, 1908.
 Monographs on Lancashire cricket: number 10.
 2019 8vo (iv) + 36 pages, illustrated.
 Original A5 card wrappers. (Stock ref 7543)
Limited edition of 50 copies, signed and numbered by Martin Tebay.
 The publication features a fulsome account of the 1908 county championship match in which Lancashire's 24-year-old all-rounder Ralph Whitehead, following in the footsteps of Jim Ricketts and Archie MacLaren, scored a century on his first-class début for the county.
 The first Lancashire cricketer to achieve this rare feat at Old Trafford, his subsequent no balling for "throwing" later in the same match ensured that his was a somewhat dramatic début.
159. Significant 19th-Century Cricket Matches in Bolton. £7
 A Small Riot... Bolton CC v. Wigan CC, 5 July 1884.
 2020 8vo (4) + 10 + (2) pages, illustrated.
 Original A5 card wrappers. (Stock ref 7598)
Limited edition of 30 copies, signed and numbered by Martin Tebay.
 This publication recalls an infamous encounter between two of Lancashire's premier cricket clubs in Victorian times. One in which a combination of awful weather, partisan umpiring, unruly behaviour, and unseemly bad language from a section of the home crowd, not to mention allegations of betting, contributed to a most unsavoury spectacle.
160. Significant 19th-Century Cricket Matches in Bolton. £7
 When Arthur met "Mac".
 Bolton Club and Ground XI v. Nottingham Commercial XI... 1873
 2018 8vo (4) + 11 + (1) pages, illustrated.
 Original A5 card wrappers. (Stock ref 7472)
Limited edition of 30 copies, signed and numbered by Martin Tebay.
 On opposing sides were two Nottinghamshire-born cricketers, one famous, the other soon to be famous. One the renowned Lancashire County and Bolton CC bowler Will McIntyre, often referred to by the cricketing folk of Bolton and its surrounding districts as "McIntyre the Famous," or, more prosaically, "Mac," the other a young batsman named Arthur Shrewsbury.
161. Significant 19th-Century Cricket Matches in Bolton. £7
 The Great Local Cricketing Event of the Year... 1870
 United North of England XI v. Sixteen Lancashire Residents.
 2018 8vo (4) + 11 + (1) pages, illustrated.
 Original A5 card wrappers. (Stock ref 7467)
Limited edition of 30 copies, signed and numbered by Martin Tebay.
 Notwithstanding a serious injury to one of the professional cricketers, the match featured a century by JT Oscroft of Nottinghamshire, and three half-centuries, one of which was obtained by the host cricket club's senior professional Will McIntyre, who also took nine wickets in the match.
